

Life traces

 2016 Moscow Museum of modern art, the 5th Moscow Biennale for young art (special project)

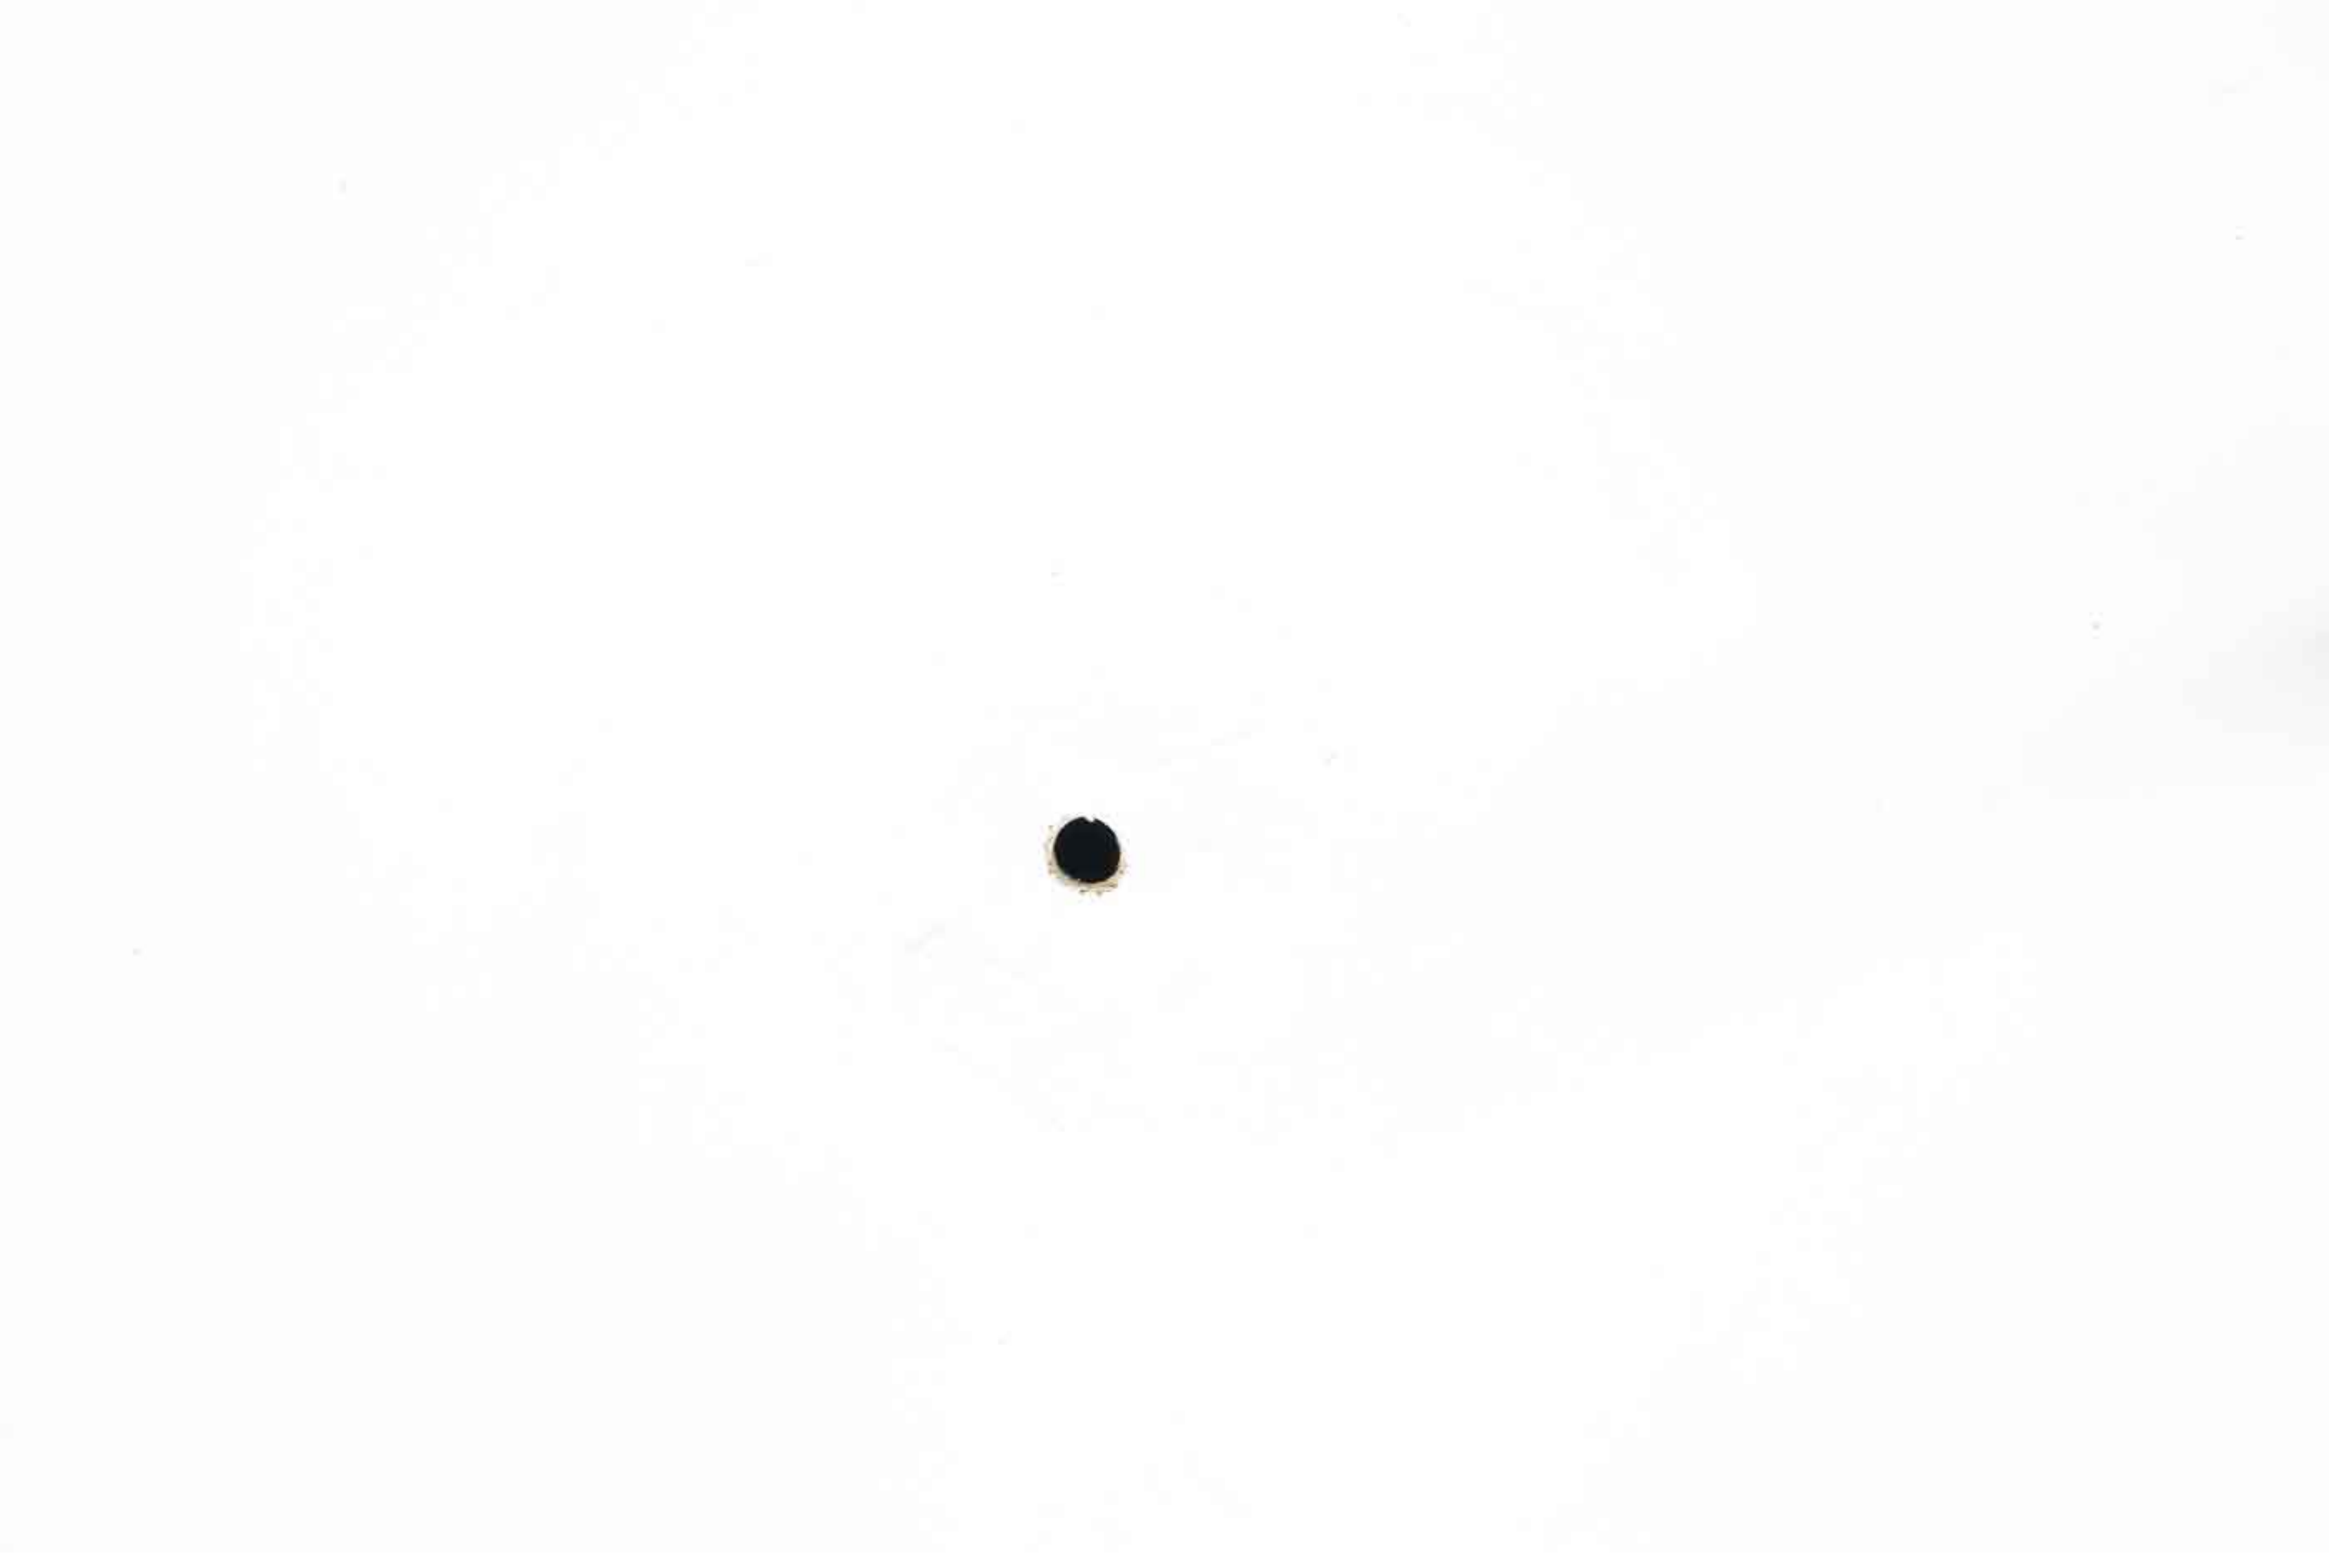

Photography series
100 x 67 cm
Production: 2015 — 2016

Photography series shows the traces that artworks leave at galleries, halls, and other places after their exhibitions have been dismantled.

“Bioglyphs are the preserved traces of any manifestations of the life activity of extinct organisms on the surface or within sedimentary rocks.”

Biological encyclopaedic dictionary / A. Babaev et al.

Share
Facebook Twitter X Tumblr Pinterest Email Print